

Biogeochemical cycles- a pathway forms when a substance enters a living organisms such as trees from the atmosphere, water, or soil; stay for a time in the living organisms; then return to the nonliving environment.

345 million years ago

Oil deposit

