

Lamprey's are _____.

They can be ____ to ____ centimeters long.

They are found in both ____ and _____.

Their scientific name is _____.

They are valuable for research because of their _____ and _____.

These two factors make them similar to _____, which gives insight into evolutionary status to old/new fish.

Lamprey's have a round, suckerlike _____.

Lamprey's feed on ____ and ____ whales, among other fish in the sea.

Lamprey's lack _____ thus making them rare as _____.